Prohibition in Massachusetts-The contest so recently ended in Massachusetts has attracted the attention of the whole country. The result of the election there which followed the splendid fight between the advocates and the opponents of prohibition by constitutional amendment was a surprise only to those who had not kept up with the march of events in the Old Bay State. The Republican leaders from Maine to California are in doubt as to what will be the next movement of the Prohibitionists, and tremble for the supremacy of the'r party in the northern States.

But why should the Republican party rather than the Democratic be held responsible by the Probiblionists for the result of last week's vote in Massachusetts? There are several reasons. One is that the Repub-Hean Prohibitionists who place probibition above any other issue that can be presented them feel as if they had been deceived and chested by the Republican organization.

is that the Prohibitionists, instead of acquiescing in the result and excusing the Repub-Hean leaders, will now vote as a body for candidates of their own for all offices, State and national, and thus so weaken the Republican party as to insure the election of the Democratic candidates. In the northern States, as a rule, the Democrats are not favorable to prohibition, and so their party will not be likely to lose as many votes as the Republican party will as a consequence of the rally of the Prohibitionists under their own standards.

But bayen't the Prohibitionist had caudidates of their own for years past? They have; but they have always hitherto sunk the Prohibition issue in favor of the party risues, just as in Virginia we have subordinated tariff reform and protection to the question of the supremacy of the white race. question of the supremacy of the white race.

In New York State last fall the Republican candidate for Governor was defeated by over 19,000 majority notwithstanding that Hartion on the part of the manufacturers to mison carried the State, and though his election was advocated by all the leading Republican papers on the ground that he was as good a Prohibitionist as could be elected. He fought outside the lines, it was said, and the stemming will probably hereafter be done separate and apart from the rolling-rooms. The factory operatives have lost $12,000 or $15,000 in wages by the three weeks' strike. lican Prohibitionists to the support of HAB-RISON, but did not frighten the Republican nists from his ranks.

to the double game which the Republican party has thus been playing, and do not cago Tribune, which calls the Prohibitionists "Drys," "for short," explains what the grumbling of the Prohibitionists means. It have put on their war-paint. The Voice asks as to the above figures:

"How can such facts as these be explained except on the hypothesis that the Republican machine threw its influence against prohibi-tics silently but effectually in Republican strongholds?

"Prohabition must have behind it a party machine. The hand of Omnipotence is driving irresistibly temperance public sentiment this way. We do not look for any more victories slong State lines until the voters of America are organized around the liquor question—one great national party against it. This will give Prohibition one of the two political machines."

These murmurings may not foreshadow.

These murmurings may not foreshadow immediate defeat for the Republican party. They come from men who have just suffered a crushing defeat themselves. But the flored get which is to take place between the Republicans and the Prohibitionists will result in strengthening the Democratic party in the North, and, better still, will cause the Republican leaders to "call off their dogs" from the South.

The Atlanta Constitution says:

"The negro is not appreciated outside of the South, and he can only be appreciated by the southern people. Right here is the problem that the newspapers are dealing with. Shall the negro be left to be dealt with by the sympathetic South or shall the unsympathetic North come in and drive these two to come it?"

cide to leave the solution of the negro question to the sympathetic South the better will be for the negro. The time will never come when the southern nan will not have more sympathy than the porthern man for the negro. The time will never come when the southern man will not show more consideration than the northern man for the negro. Nevertheless, the fact remains that each succeeding generation of outhern whites will have less sympathy for the negro than the generation that preceded

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.) (Special selegram to the Dispatch)

DANULLE, VA., April 25,—The striking tobacco-rollers at a largely-attended meeting to-day resolved to return to work Monday morning next at the old prices. The strike commenced April 12th, when all the colored rollers demanded of the manufacturers an advance of twenty-five cents per 100 per for rolling tobacco, which being refused boycott the strikers, and they will give them work as long as they need hands to the fac-tories. It is generally believed the strike will lead to a new sytsem of manufacturing.

Lee and Moltke Contrasted.

The Prohibitionists of the North object to the double game which the Republican arty has thus been playing, and do not esitate to "talk out in meeting." The Chiago Tribune, which calls the Prohibitionists to as any of the Prohibitionists what the rumbling of the Prohibitionists means. It ays:

Turning to their national organ, the New York Voice, we read as follows:

"That 45,000 majority against Prohibition in Massachusetts is no surprise. That result was inevitable. But why was the defeat inevitable? It was a non-partisan light only on one side. A non-partisan Prohibition fight on both sides is an impossibility since the liquor-men have become aroused and organized. The national liquor leagues compelied the party machines in Massachusetts to help them—the machines of both of the old parties. Do our Republican temperance friends who so bravely helped in the Prohibition fight in that State doubt that the Republican machine was against them? We ask them to study carefully the vote by towns and counties. Let them study the figures which we give on another page."

What are those tell-take figures? We quote the Voice again:

"Republican plurality for President in Messachusetts. November, 1888, 32,037. Liquor majority, April 22, 1889, 44,600."

"Total vote for President, 844,448. Total vote on the amendment, 222,000. Persons not taking enough interest in the Pronibition question in this great Republican State to vote on the smendment, 122,500.

NATURE'S GREAT SPECIFIC FOR DYSPEPSIA AND GOUT.

At eighty years of age, bedridden from Dyspepsia and Gout, she was miraculously restored by this Water.

"Dolly Shelton, formerly a family servant, resides a mile from RUFFALO SPRINGS. When about eighty years of age she was bedriddee, a sufferer from ATCNIC DYSPEPSIA and RHEU-NATIC GOUT. I advised remedies in the case as pallatives meetly, not regarding her recovery as among possibilities. While she was in this condition a Sering was discovered at Ruffalo, now known as Springs No. 7. Without suggestion she at the commenced the use of it, and in a few months of saw her only at long interpola, not feeling that I could be of service to her I found, to my great astonishment, that it was proving highly beneficial. There was marked improvement of the BidExtIoN, and disc of the GOUTY SIMPIOMS. Under continued use of the water there was continued improvement, until she was able to substitute a diet of meat and vogetables for mead and milk, nobed rice, commend much, fic. and there was also an entire disappearance of the GOUTY AFFECTION. At the same time there was gradual increase of field and nervous vigor, until she could wake without unusual faigue several miles at a time over the surrounding hills. She is now living, and certainly not under ninstrifive verse of age. She claims to be one nundered; would weigh, I suppose, two hundred; is in good general health, and waise without limitury about her house, yacd, and garden, having had no return of DYSPEPSIA or GOUT."
